

ClearShield
STAINLESS STEEL SECURITY

The innovators in security doors and security screens

introduction

Security doors and screens have long been the 'front line' of protection from intruders on Australian homes. ClearShield is now providing a welcomed change to ugly grilles and mesh screens.

ClearShield has created a new era with its unique stainless steel perforated sheet assembly. This unique assembly is patented here in Australia and overseas.

ClearShield Stainless Steel Security Doors and Screens provide optimum visibility allowing home owners to enjoy the view and breeze by leaving their doors and windows open without compromising security.

Now available Australia wide through our network of authorised ClearShield manufacturers.

accreditations

ClearShield is the only multi design award winning security screen system in Australia. With a string of prestigious awards, ClearShield is the brand that home owners can trust for security screens and doors.

ClearShield security doors and security screens are a trusted brand and a clear leader within their industry.

emergency exit screens

We've developed the Emergency Exit Screen so in the event of a fire or similar household drama, family members can escape by simply releasing the escape mechanism and pushing the screen frame outward.

It's designed to release in a matter of seconds, and is extremely child friendly.

security screens

ClearShield provides the ultimate solution in window security. Nothing comes close to the superior look of ClearShield's award winning unique stainless steel security screens.

Unlike other security window screens that use woven mesh products which can collect dirt and dust in the weave, ClearShield's security screens feature a smooth and easy to clean stainless steel security screen sheet that is burglar resistant from a knife attack and is also appealing to look at.

security doors

ClearShield's advanced technology for security doors has taken the conventional security door to another level with both its strength and good looks.

Whether you are looking for security sliding doors or bi fold screen security doors, we can customise the perfect solution for home owners. ClearShield security doors and screens in Australia have a unique design which does not require additional cross bars through the middle of a door to meet the Australian Standard as a security door.
